

Overview

Whether your Business is going through a significant merger or acquisition, a production and efficiency drive or just modernisation and development, aligning processes, people, data and technology to deliver value and synchronicity often requires you to run work streams under a single transformation programme.

*Elite has significant experience and competence in joining the core elements of a transformation programme together to deliver an optimum business model. We are clear that the true value of a transformation programme is delivering efficiency and innovation to current organisational requirements while supporting future growth and delivering a permanent cultural change.

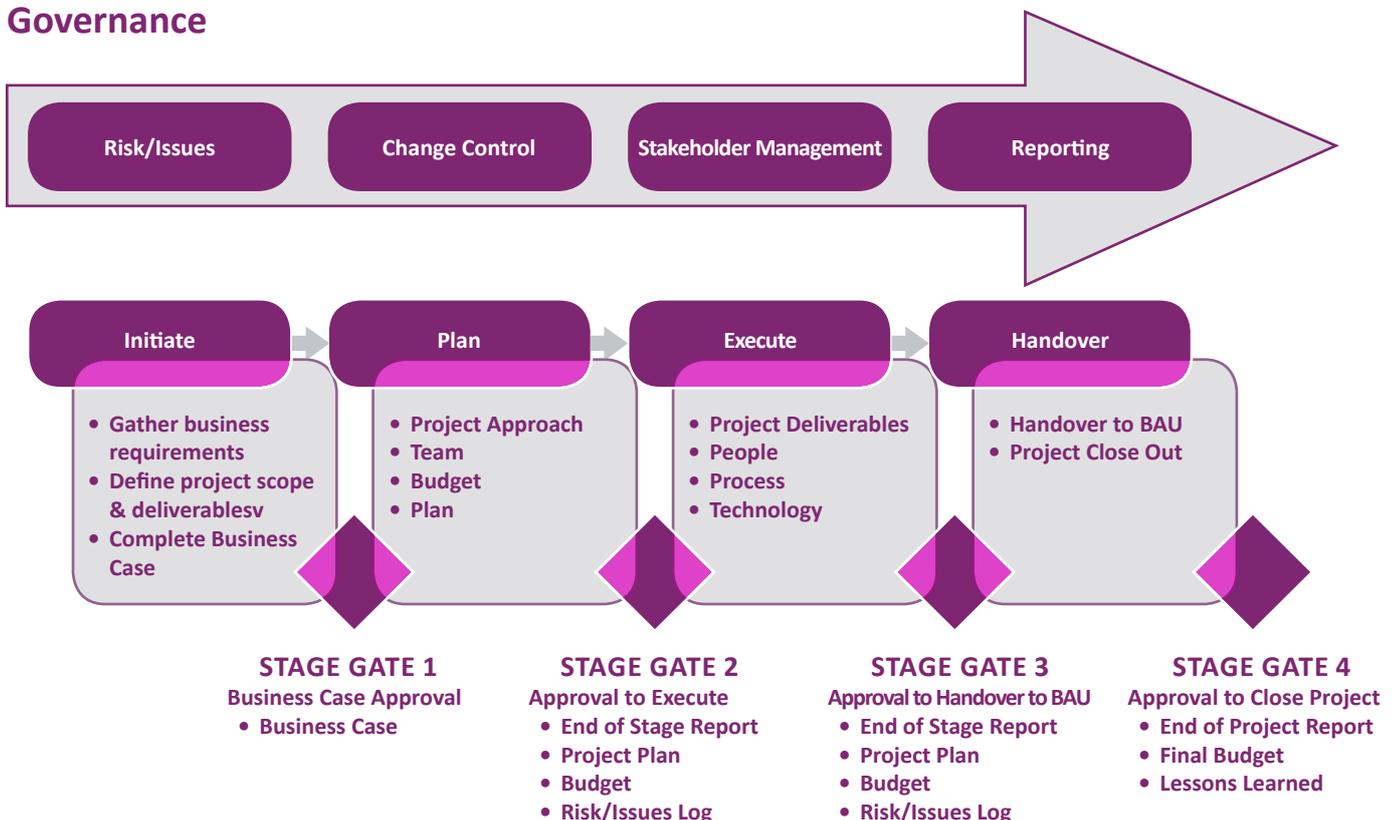

Methodology

Elite understands that every programme must deliver optimal business value and be driven by a cohesive framework that ensures the most efficient decisions whilst delivering fully on business requirements.

Elite follows a Prince2 based in-house methodology to ensure the Business is pivotal in the review and selection of transformation options and that business value/return on investment are considered, tracked and achieved throughout the programme lifecycle. Whether your Business requires a programme template, addition of process or peer review of best practice, our framework based methodology is proven through local and regional transformation programmes.

Governance

Gathering Requirements and Scoping Options

Our consultants understand that the critical success factors to an effective transformation programme begin with fully defined process and data requirements from all key Business Stakeholders. Then the development of fit for purpose business options, underpinned with the robust technology options that are measured against value, risk and return on investment. Once reviewed and approved, a transformation programme framework is used to ensure the delivery of the “to-be” processes, people and technology to support the optimum business model.

In-House Expertise

Our Consultant base has proven expertise in all levels of Transformation Programmes across Local and Global Oil & Gas Operators. Whether you are looking for a Global Transformation Manager, Senior Asset Change Manager or Local Transformation Work Lead, Elite has expertise across all aspects of people, process and technology.

If you are looking for an end to end transformation team equipped with methodologies and templates or individual subject matter experts to enhance your own team, our Consultants can provide the competencies you require to reach your optimum business model.

Embedding Change and Maintaining Momentum

Elite understands that transforming your business is not simply the delivery of a set of process, data and technology changes.

The success of business transformation is achieved through managed change that is driven by leadership and results in cultural acceptance of the new business model.
